

The Tribune.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

BY MAIL—IN ADVANCE—POSTAGE PREPAID.
Daily edition, per month.....$1.00
Two days a week, per month.....$0.80
Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, per year.....$2.00
Sunday, per year.....$2.50
Any day or Sunday, 12-page edition, per year.....$2.50

WEEKLY EDITION—POST-PAID.

One cent, per week.....$0.12
One cent, per month.....$1.00
Specimen copies sent free.

Give Post-Office address in full, including State and County.

Subscriptions may be made either by draft, express, or Post-Office order, or in registered letters, at any rate.

TO CITIES AND TOWNS.

Daily, delivered, Sunday included, 25 cents per week.

Address THE TRIBUNE COMPANY,

Corner Madison and Dearborn-st., Chicago, Ill.

POSTAGE.

Received at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., as Second-Class Matter.

For the benefit of our persons who desire to send single copies of THE TRIBUNE through the mail, we give herewith the true rate of postage.

Eight and Twenty Page Paper.....2 cents

Twenty and Twenty Page Paper.....2 cents

Twenty and Twenty Page Paper.....2 cents

TRIBUNE BRANCH OFFICES.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established branch offices for the receipt of advertising and advertising men as follows:

NEW YORK—Room 205 Tribune Building, F. W. Mc-Namee, 100 Broadway—Alon's American News.

GLASGOW, Scotland—Alon's American News.

LONDON—East-Asian Exchange, 49 Strand.

EDINBURGH, D. C.—129 F street.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Madison street, between Dearborn and State. Engagement of Miss Ada Cavendish, "Jane Shore."

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Dearborn street, corner of Monroe. Engagement of the Weatherby-Goodwin Troopies, "Hobson's Choice."

Madam's Theatre, Randolph street, between Clark and LaSalle. Engagement of the Tragedians of Kalamazoo, "Our School Days; on Boys and Girls Again."

Bethune Hall, corner Randolph and State streets. Boston Men's Chorus Quintet Club.

Hamlin's Theatre, Clark street, between Washington and Randolph.

Engagement of Mr. Jill Gillette, "The Professor."

MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1860.

THE Iowa Legislature adjourned sine die Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The heavy gale of Saturday and Sunday on Lake Michigan was attended with but few disasters to shipping, and those of minor consequence.

Parties digging a well recently near Bremen, Iowa, accidentally struck a petroleum vein and obtained at once a flow of petroleum gushes a day. The community is greatly excited in consequence.

The Workmen's Union of Chicago is to be disbanded by the end of next month. The members of the Union, in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

A. C. CORBIN, the brother-in-law of Gen. Grant, who acquired an enviable distinction in connection with Black Hawk's victory in 1832, was charged by the Corbin of the Workmen's Union in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

The outpour for peace and quiet in San Francisco is represented by the admission of Major Ketchum, who, with the Citizens' Defense Union, in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

As this question rests upon the opposing sides of two persons, it is natural to throw some light on the truth to consider the probabilities of such a "veneration" and a "mug" encounter having taken place. Mr. Sherman attributes to his refusal to promise to nullify the Resumption act a "force opposition" on the part of the Tribune to him personally; and to his Executive aspirations, and hence furnishes what he considers a "motive" on the part of his assailant.

On the other hand, the allegation that any interview between the parties of the character mentioned, or that any interview in which the parties had any discussion involving a violation of the act providing for the redemption of greenbacks in coin, is broadly and flatly declared to be untrue. The circumstances of the time show how utterly improbable is the whole story.

In the first place, the editor of THE TRIBUNE knows very well that the Secretary of the Treasury has no power to repeal a National law, set aside a law, or to nullify a law. It is hardly likely, therefore, that he would ask the Secretary to do anything impossible of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused." The pecuniary condition of Mr. Medill was not of the character which it is said he represented it to be, and it is not probable that he would be able to do anything of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused." The pecuniary condition of Mr. Medill was not of the character which it is said he represented it to be, and it is not probable that he would be able to do anything of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused."

It is not likely that the Democrats should be sent to the assassin of Col. Compton, of the Russian Embassy. The question of the murderer's sanity is to be referred to a board of foreign physicians named by the different Embassies.

In addition to their customary condition of revolution and internal disturbance, the people of the United States of America have a new and dangerous existence in the American West. The West is a land of savagery and desolation, and it is manifested that severe justice should be done to the assassin of Col. Compton, of the Russian Embassy. The question of the murderer's sanity is to be referred to a board of foreign physicians named by the different Embassies.

A plan for sending silver coins through the mails is under consideration by the Treasury and Post-Office Departments and the House Committee on Coins. It is found that fractional silver currency has a tendency to find its way back to the Treasury and accumulate there, creating a scarcity for general circulation and use. Under the plan suggested, it is proposed to熔化 the silver in the form of bars of one-half ounce, not less than $10, nor more than four pounds in weight, in registered packages, the applicants for the coin to pay the registration fee and at the rate of 10 cents per pound. In this way it is thought the subsidiary coinage can be kept in continual circulation at the money centers, and change distributed to meet the wants of the country.

This literary work part of the Sherman movement appears to be engineered by Mr. Warner M. Bateeman, an individual whose talents for misrepresentation is just now receiving conspicuous recognition. This gifted personage is vigorously engaged in the distribution of a very inferior class of literature, and it is to be regretted that he is successful in persons of prominence in Ohio, in which the extraneous theory is advanced that, in the event of Grant's candidacy being abandoned, his supporters would be those to whom Sherman's supporters would be the hardest men to sight; that he is the easiest man for the conflicting factions to unite upon; and that the business men East and West, and the almost unanimous support of his name. Considering that one and every one of these statements is as remote from the facts in the case as it could possibly be, and in view of his other achievements in the line of misrepresentation, the Chairman of the Sherman National Committee is clearly entitled to the bell.

EASTER SUNDAY was very generally observed in the churches of Chicago yesterday with special services and decorations, and the attendance was unusually large. In addition to a service of the Presbyterians, there was a service of the Baptists, and a service of the Methodists. A sermon was delivered by Prof. Swing at the Central Church, in continuation of his discourse of the Sunday previous on the subject, "Is Life Worth Living?" Also a sermon by the Rev. Clinton Locke, at Grace Episcopal Church, and another by the Rev. Dr. Williams, at the First Methodist Church, upon "Science and the Resurrection of the Human Body"; by Bishop Cheney, at Christ Church, Reformed Episcopal, upon a text appropriate to the day; and by Rev. John W. Thompson, the newly-ordained pastor of the Second and Third Presbyterian.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established branch offices for the receipt of advertising and advertising men as follows:

NEW YORK—Room 205 Tribune Building, F. W. McNamee, 100 Broadway—Alon's American News.

GLASGOW, Scotland—Alon's American News.

LONDON—East-Asian Exchange, 49 Strand.

EDINBURGH, D. C.—129 F street.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Madison street, between Dearborn and State. Engagement of Miss Ada Cavendish, "Jane Shore."

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Dearborn street, corner of Monroe. Engagement of the Weatherby-Goodwin Troopies, "Hobson's Choice."

Madam's Theatre, Randolph street, between Clark and LaSalle. Engagement of the Tragedians of Kalamazoo, "Our School Days; on Boys and Girls Again."

Bethune Hall, corner Randolph and State streets. Boston Men's Chorus Quintet Club.

Hamlin's Theatre, Clark street, between Washington and Randolph.

Engagement of Mr. Jill Gillette, "The Professor."

MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1860.

THE Iowa Legislature adjourned sine die Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The heavy gale of Saturday and Sunday on Lake Michigan was attended with but few disasters to shipping, and those of minor consequence.

Parties digging a well recently near Bremen, Iowa, accidentally struck a petroleum vein and obtained at once a flow of petroleum gushes a day. The community is greatly excited in consequence.

The Workmen's Union of Chicago is to be disbanded by the end of next month. The members of the Union, in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

The outpour for peace and quiet in San Francisco is represented by the admission of Major Ketchum, who, with the Citizens' Defense Union, in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

As this question rests upon the opposing sides of two persons, it is natural to throw some light on the truth to consider the probabilities of such a "veneration" and a "mug" encounter having taken place. Mr. Sherman attributes to his refusal to promise to nullify the Resumption act a "force opposition" on the part of the Tribune to him personally; and to his Executive aspirations, and hence furnishes what he considers a "motive" on the part of his assailant.

On the other hand, the allegation that any interview between the parties of the character mentioned, or that any interview in which the parties had any discussion involving a violation of the act providing for the redemption of greenbacks in coin, is broadly and flatly declared to be untrue. The circumstances of the time show how utterly improbable is the whole story.

In the first place, the editor of THE TRIBUNE knows very well that the Secretary of the Treasury has no power to repeal a National law, set aside a law, or to nullify a law. It is hardly likely, therefore, that he would ask the Secretary to do anything impossible of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused." The pecuniary condition of Mr. Medill was not of the character which it is said he represented it to be, and it is not probable that he would be able to do anything of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused."

It is not likely that the Democrats should be sent to the assassin of Col. Compton, of the Russian Embassy. The question of the murderer's sanity is to be referred to a board of foreign physicians named by the different Embassies.

A plan for sending silver coins through the mails is under consideration by the Treasury and Post-Office Departments and the House Committee on Coins. It is found that fractional silver currency has a tendency to find its way back to the Treasury and accumulate there, creating a scarcity for general circulation and use. Under the plan suggested, it is proposed to熔化 the silver in the form of bars of one-half ounce, not less than $10, nor more than four pounds in weight, in registered packages, the applicants for the coin to pay the registration fee and at the rate of 10 cents per pound. In this way it is thought the subsidiary coinage can be kept in continual circulation at the money centers, and change distributed to meet the wants of the country.

This literary work part of the Sherman movement appears to be engineered by Mr. Warner M. Bateeman, an individual whose talents for misrepresentation is just now receiving conspicuous recognition. This gifted personage is vigorously engaged in the distribution of a very inferior class of literature, and it is to be regretted that he is successful in persons of prominence in Ohio, in which the extraneous theory is advanced that, in the event of Grant's candidacy being abandoned, his supporters would be those to whom Sherman's supporters would be the hardest men to sight; that he is the easiest man for the conflicting factions to unite upon; and that the business men East and West, and the almost unanimous support of his name. Considering that one and every one of these statements is as remote from the facts in the case as it could possibly be, and in view of his other achievements in the line of misrepresentation, the Chairman of the Sherman National Committee is clearly entitled to the bell.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established branch offices for the receipt of advertising and advertising men as follows:

NEW YORK—Room 205 Tribune Building, F. W. McNamee, 100 Broadway—Alon's American News.

GLASGOW, Scotland—Alon's American News.

LONDON—East-Asian Exchange, 49 Strand.

EDINBURGH, D. C.—129 F street.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Madison street, between Dearborn and State. Engagement of Miss Ada Cavendish, "Jane Shore."

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Dearborn street, corner of Monroe. Engagement of the Weatherby-Goodwin Troopies, "Hobson's Choice."

Madam's Theatre, Randolph street, between Clark and LaSalle. Engagement of the Tragedians of Kalamazoo, "Our School Days; on Boys and Girls Again."

Bethune Hall, corner Randolph and State streets. Boston Men's Chorus Quintet Club.

Hamlin's Theatre, Clark street, between Washington and Randolph.

Engagement of Mr. Jill Gillette, "The Professor."

MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1860.

THE Iowa Legislature adjourned sine die Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The heavy gale of Saturday and Sunday on Lake Michigan was attended with but few disasters to shipping, and those of minor consequence.

Parties digging a well recently near Bremen, Iowa, accidentally struck a petroleum vein and obtained at once a flow of petroleum gushes a day. The community is greatly excited in consequence.

The Workmen's Union of Chicago is to be disbanded by the end of next month. The members of the Union, in the preservation of good order and the prevention of disturbance. At a large mass-meeting last evening the Mayor expressed the desire that the Sand-Lotter should cease their profane and threatening speeches, and added that the people were tired of Kearney and his agitation.

As this question rests upon the opposing sides of two persons, it is natural to throw some light on the truth to consider the probabilities of such a "veneration" and a "mug" encounter having taken place. Mr. Sherman attributes to his refusal to promise to nullify the Resumption act a "force opposition" on the part of the Tribune to him personally; and to his Executive aspirations, and hence furnishes what he considers a "motive" on the part of his assailant.

On the other hand, the allegation that any interview between the parties of the character mentioned, or that any interview in which the parties had any discussion involving a violation of the act providing for the redemption of greenbacks in coin, is broadly and flatly declared to be untrue. The circumstances of the time show how utterly improbable is the whole story.

In the first place, the editor of THE TRIBUNE knows very well that the Secretary of the Treasury has no power to repeal a National law, set aside a law, or to nullify a law. It is hardly likely, therefore, that he would ask the Secretary to do anything impossible of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused." The pecuniary condition of Mr. Medill was not of the character which it is said he represented it to be, and it is not probable that he would be able to do anything of that kind, much less "threaten him with destruction if he refused."

It is not likely that the Democrats should be sent to the assassin of Col. Compton, of the Russian Embassy. The question of the murderer's sanity is to be referred to a board of foreign physicians named by the different Embassies.

A plan for sending silver coins through the mails is under consideration by the Treasury and Post-Office Departments and the House Committee on Coins. It is found that fractional silver currency has a tendency to find its way back to the Treasury and accumulate there, creating a scarcity for general circulation and use. Under the plan suggested, it is proposed to熔化 the silver in the form of bars of one-half ounce, not less than $10, nor more than four pounds in weight, in registered packages, the applicants for the coin to pay the registration fee and at the rate of 10 cents per pound. In this way it is thought the subsidiary coinage can be kept in continual circulation at the money centers, and change distributed to meet the wants of the country.

This literary work part of the Sherman movement appears to be engineered by Mr. Warner M. Bateeman, an individual whose talents for misrepresentation is just now receiving conspicuous recognition. This gifted personage is vigorously engaged in the distribution of a very inferior class of literature, and it is to be regretted that he is successful in persons of prominence in Ohio, in which the extraneous theory is advanced that, in the event of Grant's candidacy being abandoned, his supporters would be those to whom Sherman's supporters would be the hardest men to sight; that he is the easiest man for the conflicting factions to unite upon; and that the business men East and West, and the almost unanimous support of his name. Considering that one and every one of these statements is as remote from the facts in the case as it could possibly be, and in view of his other achievements in the line of misrepresentation, the Chairman of the Sherman National Committee is clearly entitled to the bell.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established branch offices for the receipt of advertising and advertising men as follows:

NEW YORK—Room 205 Tribune Building, F. W. McNamee, 100 Broadway—Alon's American News.

GLASGOW, Scotland—Alon's American News.

LONDON—East-Asian Exchange, 49 Strand.

EDINBURGH, D. C.—129 F street.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Madison street, between Dearborn and State. Engagement of Miss Ada Cavendish, "Jane Shore."

Mr. Walker's Theatre, Dearborn street, corner of Monroe. Engagement of the Weatherby-Goodwin Troopies, "Hobson's Choice

